ANTAGENE GENERAL SALES TERMS AND CONDITIONS

June 17th 2014 version (v1.3)

These sales terms conditions of sale are agreed to, on the one hand, by the company ANTAGENE, appearing in the Companies Register (RCS) of Lyon as number company no. 441 545 258, referred hereinafter to as "ANTAGENE" and, on the other hand, by any natural person or corporate entity wishing to make a purchase from ANTAGENE. They apply to all services offered by ANTAGENE.

Purpose

These sales terms and conditions set down the contractual relationship between ANTAGENE and the customer and the terms applicable to all purchases made. The customer is defined as a pet owner that wishes to have one or more genetic tests performed on his or her animal.

The purchase of a genetic analysis implies unreserved acceptance by the customer of these sales terms conditions.

These sales terms and conditions shall prevail over any other general or special terms and conditions not specifically approved by ANTAGENE. ANTAGENE reserves the right to change these sales terms and conditions at any ANTAGENE reserves the right to change these sales terms and conditions at any time. In such event, the sales terms and conditions applicable will be those in effect at the date of the order placed by the customer.

Any request for analysis by the customer is deemed as a contract between ANTAGENE and its customer.

Shipping

The customer or its representative is solely responsible for the collection of samples intended for analysis and for shipping. ANTAGENE takes acceptance of the sample when ANTAGENE receives the sample at its laboratories.

Characteristics of the services offered

The services offered are those appearing on the price list published on the ANTAGENE website. Any requests ANTAGENE for analysis shall be made using the materials provided by ANTAGENE and in compliance with the associated documentation.

Samples

Alls samples received by ANTAGENE shall comply with the following characteristics:

- Buccal smear: flush-cut swab kept in a sealed tube filled with ethanol

- Blood collection: in EDTA tube with a minimum of 1ml

- Tissues: kept in a sealed tube filled with ethanol

All samples must be received by ANTAGENE within 15 days of the time of collection.

Any sample not collected in compliance with the above may be refused by the ANTAGENE laboratory. Accordingly, ANTAGENE may ask its customer to provide a new sample meeting with its requirements. ANTAGENE reserves the right to destroy poor quality samples.

Samples submitted to the laboratory may not be refunded, unless agreed to otherwise. They will be kept at the laboratory for 30 days from the time of receipt of such sample at the ANTAGENE laboratories. Beyond this date, the samples will be destroyed.

Samples collected for analysis shall be sent to ANTAGENE.

Genetic analysis

All requests for analysis shall be signed by the customer or its representative. Any change of an order is subject to an new order or an order amendment accepted by ANTAGENE. In the event of cancellation by the customer of a registered order, the work carried out will be payable, even if no result is provided.

Rates

The prices appearing in the price list are quoted in euros including VAT at the rate applicable on the date of the order. Any change in the VAT rate will be added to the prices or services.

ANTAGENE reserves the right to change its prices at any time, it being understood that solely the prices listed in the catalogue on the date of the order will apply. When choosing a price, the customer chooses a method for accessing its results and its invoices. The customer further chooses how the customer's requests for analysis will be followed up.

Withdrawal

Any request for analysis that has been administratively processed shall be payable.

Payment Terms

Payment for genetic tests is due upon the receipt of the file (request form accompanied by sample).

An invoice showing VAT will be sent by paper or will be downloadable from the customer's personal account on the secure website (antageneservice.com) based on the services offered.

No result for an analysis for which ANTAGENE has not received payment will be provided to the customer.

In the event DNA analyses are paid for by a third party, the results are sent solely to the customer, the owner of the animal, and in no event to any third party payer.

Lead times

The lead times provided by ANTAGENE on its price list are provided for information purposes only and are adhered to for 95% of the orders placed by customers. No delay in these lead times will give rise to any compensation or cancellation of the current order by the customer. The customer will be informed of any unusual delays.

Results and analysis reports

For every genetic analysis, ANTAGENE submits a report of results to the owner of the animal tested. The results are sent by email provided that the customer has given a valid email address. The result report is available in pdf format on the customer's personal secure account (antageneservice.com). The customer will receive the report results by mail solely if the customer has chosen and paid for the paper option.

To ensure confidentiality, no result will be given by telephone.

ANTAGENE recognises no partial reproduction of the text of the result report provided. ANTAGENE acknowledges that full reproductions of analysis reports are accurate and that they comply in every respect with the original kept at its offices.

Confidentiality

ANTAGENE discloses no information regarding samples and the results of tests conducted using samples provided by the customer.

The results of the animals can be transmitted to structure and / or agencies and / or third parties, provided that the costumer has given its consent.

Any consent given by the customer is final.

Complaints

ANTAGENE may be notified of any complaints by mail, phone or even by email. As part of its Quality Management, ANTAGENE agrees to process complaints in a timely manner and to keep the customer informed regarding the processing thereof.

Liability
